

Your rights: choice and control

NDIS plan and funding

VMCH is a registered National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) provider, offering our clients and residents a wide range of services and supports.

We acknowledge that choice and control is integral to people with disability to get the most from their NDIS plans.

We respect the decisions of our clients and residents in choosing a provider, as well as how and when they receive those supports. This includes the right to choose a service provider that is not VMCH.

We are committed to offering our clients and residents clear and unbiased information.

Our policies and procedures manage conflicts of interest, and we will support you to understand the range of choices of providers and supports.
